

HUSUM HOTEL

Description

Husum is a small family hotel in Lærdal, close to Borgund Stave Church and the King's road across Filefjell.

The hotel history is dating back to 1835 when it was operated as both a coaching and a posting inn. As a historic hotel we want to give our guests an experience reflecting the local traditions. Therefore, the hotels eight guest rooms are traditionally decorated, with each its own character.

For our guests we also offer a three-course dinner, based on local ingredients.

The evenings you can enjoy on one of our covered verandas watching the sunset, listening to the sounds of the river while letting your thoughts drift - maybe to the life of the farmers and the travelers which have passed through Husum for centuries...

We are located 20 minutes from Lærdalsøyri, when following the old road in the direction of Borgund Stave Church.

Located in the middle, between Bergen and Oslo, Lærdal has for a long time been a natural hub between the east and the west in southern Norway.

The nearest airport is Sogndal Airport, which is 1 hour and 15 minutes away from Husum hotel.
